Total banners 20 across 7 page types

A "ratio" means the width × height of a banner in pixels. For example, 970 × 90 is a wide thin banner that sits across the page, while 300 × 250 is a small square that fits in a side column.

Overview — sizes we use

Five banner sizes are used across the site. They follow the standard sizes recognised by the global ad industry.

SIZE	RATIO (PIXELS)	WHERE IT FITS
Wide banner	970 × 90	Spans the full width of the page, thin strip
Large banner	970 × 250	Spans the full width, tall — high impact
Sidebar square	300 × 250	Small square that fits in the right-side column
Native (in-grid)	—	Mixed into the listing grid, looks like a regular card
Compact	728 × 90	Compact horizontal strip (legacy, rarely used)
